

Planning of my first game

So for my first game I plan to make my pig fly down a hill and home, with help of ballons. The pig or the character is supposed to be the same as “my favorite animal” assignment character but with a few smaller updates. The character will start in the top part and using the spacebar to slow down the gravity acceleration. If the pig land with a safe velocity it should result in a win otherwise a lose.